

Justice and dignity for all.

~ BCGEU Workers with Disabilities Network

Workers with disabilities may have physical or mental challenges that are not always visible. They contribute to our society at all levels, but often face barriers related to discrimination and misconceptions.

The BC Government and Service Employees' Union is committed to advancing equity and human rights.

The BCGEU Equity and Human Rights Committee comprises members of equity groups (Aboriginal Workers; Workers of Colour; Gay, Lesbian, Bi-sexual, Transgendered Workers; Workers with Disabilities).

If you are a BCGEU member of an equity group and want to join one of our equity networks, complete the equity questionnaire on the Human Rights page at www.bcgeu.ca or through your local BCGEU area office.

Workers with disabilities may have physical or mental challenges that are not always visible. They contribute to our society at all levels, but often face barriers related to discrimination and misconceptions.

The BC Government and Service Employees' Union is committed to advancing equity and human rights.

The BCGEU Equity and Human Rights Committee comprises members of equity groups (Aboriginal Workers; Workers of Colour; Gay, Lesbian, Bi-sexual, Transgendered Workers; Workers with Disabilities).

If you are a BCGEU member of an equity group and want to join one of our equity networks, complete the equity questionnaire on the Human Rights page at www.bcgeu.ca or through your local BCGEU area office.

cep 467 / cope 378

Justice and dignity for all.

~ BCGEU Workers with Disabilities Network

