

BCGEU Organic Gardening Workshop

Saturday, May 29

BCGEU Headquarters – 4911 Canada Way, Burnaby

Tom Kozar Room A

10:30 am – 12:00 pm

Bring your friends and family and join in our next free workshop demonstrating organic gardening designed to help you take action against climate change.

In this workshop – “Beneficial Insects” – you will learn how to provide natural pest control for your garden and eliminate the need for toxic pesticides.

Did you know...

That established organic gardens typically lose fewer plants to insect pests than conventional gardens...

Don't miss out! Join gardening and environmental expert Sharon Hanna, 2005 Mayor's Prize winner for Environmental Excellence. Sharon is a member of one of VanDusen Gardens' advisory boards, and is a presenter with many community and garden groups including the Master Gardeners Association of BC and the BC Landscape Nursery Association.
